The area in which you are standing has been determined to have a high risk of infection with H5N1 influenza (Avian Flu, or Asian Bird Flu) by the non-profit infectious disease think tank Association for Nomenclature of Unusual Seriologies. It has been ascertained that the specific mutated version of avian influenza which affects the area in which you are standing is not only spread from dead birds, but also through human-to-human contact, specifically, heterosexual intercourse. Carriers often display no symptoms of infection. It is imperative that you vacate this area, and, should you require sexual stimulation, indulge only in anal intercourse, which has proven so far to be non-infectious.
